Targeted Individuals (rabbits) from all over the world are reporting covert harassment programs. This coincides with the proliferation of directed energy weapons (DEWS), intrusive surveillance technology, and organized stalking campaigns to bully citizens using Surveillance Role Players. It also coincides with a booming privatized tradecraft (spy) industry or private intelligence agencies (PIAs) that are like leeches in the Washington D.C. cashing in on Federal contracts, as well as large corporations. They keep themselves lowkey from the public and try to operate out of the public's eye. PIA's are comprised mostly of former intelligence agency people, military personal that still hold security clearances. It is similar to the mercenary business where abuses are reported (think Blackwater).
